This week the 29 Palms Softball League will sing its swan song for the year. That will leave the sport page as blank as a sophomore's mind. "Now is the time for all good men" and women to start a tiddley winks tournament or something of that sort. Let's have bigger and better sports activities.

An added inducement for young America to join up with Uncle Sam was furnished this week when 1500 Sun Valley turkeys went to market. They will eventually end up on mess tables overseas. The Army can now change its slogan to "Earn, learn and travel; and eat Sun Valley turkey."

Women's Club Plans Fall Program

A Hallowe'en party, a rummage and bake sale, a garden club and a sewing department were among the many activities outlined at the Joshua Tree Womans Club meeting held in the Community Hall last Wednesday afternoon. President Evea Cook also announced the dates for County and District meetings.

It was voted by the members to hold a Hallowe'en party at the Community Hall on October 30. Another rummage and bake sale will be conducted on October 23.

Mrs. Frank Wilberg was appointed chairman of the Sewing Department. It was voted also to establish a Garden Club Department. Mrs. George Beard was named to head the Welfare and Public Relations committee.

At the Wednesday meeting were 24 members and 5 guests. Mrs. Marie Cantz sang several numbers accompanied by Mrs. Flora Magill. Refreshments were served by Mesdames Fields, Rees and Peterson.

September 29th at Costa Mesa well be the district meeting and on October 14th the County Board meeting will convene at Crestline.

First 1948 Turkeys Shipped This Week

Fewer Pupils in Joshua Tree School

Attendance in Joshua Tree school is less this year than had been anticipated. The total number of students in the first six grades for the first week was a daily average of 28. Several Sun Valley pupils that were expected to attend in Joshua Tree are going to 29 Palms because of a more advantageous bus schedule, it was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Rich, Joshua Tree teachers, announced attendance in the various grades as follows: 5 in first grade, 2 in fourth grade and 3 in third grade. all taught by Mrs. Rich; 5 in fourth grade, 6 in fifth grade and 7 in sixth grade under the tutelage of Mr. Rich.

Mrs. Vera Braham, teacher at Yucca Valley, reports an attendance of 36 pupils and Mrs. Edith Boutwell at Morongo Valley had 17 enrolled. All schools in the district including the 29 Palms elementary grades are under the supervision of Howard Harmon, elementary principal.

Joshua Man Freed Of Charges

The suit against Frank Batters of Joshua Tree alleging contracting without a license was dismissed for lack of evidence. The case was tried before Judge Alvan R. Fisher in Banning last Friday morning. Representing the State of California was John D. McFarlane and Batters' attorney was Edwin R. Hale of Redlands.

After witnesses for the prosecution, Charles L. Stokes and Charles Hunt, had been heard the State rested its case. Upon motion of Attorney Hale the case was dismissed by Judge Fisher. Several defense witnesses on hand were not required to testify.

Former Joshua Contractor Dies

Word was received of the death of V. R. "Bob" Hayes last Friday at the home of his daughter in Gardena. His death followed a long illness. Hayes was for several years a contractor and builder here in Joshua Tree.

Funeral services for the deceased were held at MacMillan Mortuary in Gardena on Monday. Several Joshua Tree friends of Mr. Hayes attended.

Changes Made in Hiway Ass'n Officers

Two additional vice presidents have been provided for in the organization of the Baseline Hiway Improvement Association which held a meeting of its officers and directors at 29 Palms last Friday night. Charles Watkins remains as 1st vice president and Hal Oxnivad of Vidal who resigned as treasurer was named 2nd vice president. The 3rd office has not yet been filled. The new treasurer, appointed last Friday, is Ralph Jones of 29 Palms.

A committee was appointed to complete preparation of the Articles of Incorporation. On it are Gerald O. McMillen, Joshua Tree; Woody Vance, Yucca Valley and Sid Lippen of 29 Palms. This group will also draw up the By-laws of the new corporation.

It was announced by Charles Watkins who presided that public liability insurance in the amount of $50,000 and $100,000 had been taken out with the California Compensation Insurance Company and property damage insurance in the amount of $5,000 had also been written.

Preparation of data showing the advantages of the road will be compiled for presentation to influential groups thruout Southern California in an effort to interest them in furthering the project.

Lafferty Brothers were authorized to try new topping methods on a short stretch of the road. These methods have been recommended by experienced engineers and road builders and if applicable to this road will prove less expensive than present methods, it was stated.

Road barricades will be erected at either end of the construction project to warn autoists that the road is not yet passable except for special type vehicles.

The next open meeting was announced for Thursday evening, September 30th, at the DAV Hall in 29 Palms. The meeting will start at 8 P.M.

The treasurer reported that contributions are coming in at a fairly steady rate. Others wishing to contribute may send money to Baseline Hiway Improvement Association at 29 Palms.

1500 Bronze Gobblers Trucked From Sun Valley Tuesday

The first consignment of broad breasted bronze turkeys left Sun Valley early Tuesday morning for the processing plant of the Southern California Turkey Growers Association at Riverside. A total of 1500 huge birds were loaded on trucks before dawn at the Kroes-Halstead and Dutton ranches and left for the market in the cool of the morning. The ultimate destination of this flock will be the dinner tables of many of Uncle Sam's far-flung outposts in Europe and the Far East. The Army, Navy and Air Force will feast on Sun Valley turkey during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

According to Bob Kroes, pioneer Sun Valley turkey raiser, this shipment comprises about one fifth of the total number of birds raised at Sun Valley this year. Approximately 7000 turkeys will go to market from here before December.

From the trucks the birds go directly to the processing line. They are then graded and sent to the buyer. Local turkey raisers are paid by the cooperative after grading and sale.

Other flocks from Sun Valley ranches will be ready every two or three weeks from now on and will be shipped when the growers decide the birds have reached their prime weight and condition.

It is expected that several new growers will be added to the growing list at Sun Valley. The present high market which is expected by agricultural experts to last several more years makes turkey raising a profitable venture. Kroes estimates that local growers should realize at least $2.00 profit per bird this year. The growing season is from 26 to 28 weeks from the time a poult is one day old until it is ready for processing.

Hundreds of prospective turkey growers have written to the Joshua Tree Townsite Company, sales agents for Sun Valley ranches, and scores have called at their offices for information regarding turkey raising. Several have purchased ranches during the past few weeks.

Strong state-wide support of the Dewey-Warren ticket was assured today with the appointment of 100 representative Northern and Southern Californias to the Executive Committee of the Republican State Central organization.

Shattuck stated that men and women have been given equal representation on the committee. Balance has been established for the counties north and south of the Tehachapi, he added.

Shattuck called the Executive Committee into session last Saturday, September 18, in the Presidio at Santa Barbara. It was an all-day meeting from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

The principal question on the agenda was a discussion of Executive Committee campaign procedures in behalf of Republican nominees on the presidential, congressional and legislative levels, Shattuck declared.

The committee also considered plans for the entertainment of Governor Thomas E. Dewey while he is in California. He is due in Los Angeles Friday, September 24 for a meeting in the Hollywood Bowl at 7:00 p.m.

Shattuck indicated that the com-

BENES IN CALIFONIA

When Eduard Benes, the late great president of Czechoslovakia, died last week in Prague, the last vestige of democratic freedom in that unhappy country was buried in his grave.

Democracy was stilled for a time, too, in the Czech diplomatic outpost in California, when Benes' nephew, Bohus Benes, dramatically resigned his San Francisco consular position. "I resigned because I cannot be a Communist," he said, "because Marxism makes use of the inhuman methods of Naziism and Facism."

Communism quickly moved into the consulate office, in the person of Dr. Ervin Munk, sent by the Czech embassy in Washington to take over. Arriving in the midst of Bohus Benes' final news conference, Munk screamed at reporters, locked himself in an inner office, phoned his Washington boss to apologize for allowing himself to be photographed, then emerged and truculently accepted the office keys.

In relinquishing his post, Bohus Benes did not relinquish hope. Of his patriot uncle, he had this to say: "He would have preferred to lead his people and fight for the return of democracy to Czechoslovakia. He could not; but other men have died and still inspired the fight for truth to prevail!"

In that simple, eloquent statement, Bohus Benes expressed what the civilized world knows in its heart and rejoices to remember. Democracy lives today because, even in martyrdom, men believe staunchly and deeply in other men's right to dignity and honor.

THE BOLD LOOK

Saville Row's staid old tailors emerged from the London fog the other day to proclaim a "bold new look"— exclusively for the more robust of the species.

For street wear, there's a bright yellow coat and bright navy blue trousers; for the country club, a jacket of elegant pink; for golf, a waist-length jacket, without lapels, worn with brightly striped tweed. Dancing will call for open-work silk socks, with holes big enough to permit the flesh, but not its hirsute adornment, to peek through.

But the bold new look doesn't stop there. On the beach, if men succumb to this newest tailoring blandishment, they'll wear knee-length trousers while wading, combined with a half sweater displaying four inches of the midriff. For swimming there's a wrap-around garment not unlike the kind infants grow up in.

All these eye-poppers, the Saville sewers say, merely put into form and fabric their sartorial philosophy that men, rather than women, were intended to wear the fine clothes.

It's true that Nature adorns the male animal with the most majestic and flamboyant of coloring — to lure the female — but we have a strong suspicion that most men will be content to let the analogy rest there. Saville Row notwithstanding, the bold look for men probably will be hailed with somewhat less enthusiasm than the new look for women. Or will it?

THE JOSHUAS

WE WILL MISS HER

If you knew Barbara Hoffman, you loved her; if you did not know her, you missed knowing a wonderful soul whose Inner Light penetrated and illumed every place that she went. Barbara, or Bobbie as she was lovingly called, had known for several years that she was not strong as other children and that it might not be long before she would leave us. But as young as she was, she took the whole situation very philosophically. She filled her spare time so full in serving others that her own heart bubbled over with joy and sunshine!

Mothers trusted Bobbie with their little children; teachers admired her great courage and fortitude; playmates loved her happy disposition and enthusiasm, and every one whose privilege it was to meet her knew instinctively that in her frail body there lodged a great soul.

Not as a child with childish ways
She came to earth to spend her days;
But like an older soul she trod
As one who knew—and talked with God!

Tuberculin Tests

Children entering school are frequently given a tuberculin test. The purpose of this test is to determine whether they have ever been infected b ythe germs which cause tuberculosis. The tuberculin test does not tell whether they have the disease tuberculosis, but only whether they have in their bodies the germs which are the cause of the disease.

Many people have TB germs, or tubercle bacilli, in their bodies who never develop active tuberculosis. Thus, if a child has a positive reaction to the tuberculin test, there is no reason to be alarmed.

However, there is no point in knowing only half the truth. The next step is to find out whether the positive reaction means only the presence of germs or whether disease itself is present. All positive reactors to the tuberculin test should have a chest X-ray because the X-ray will reveal whether tuberculosis has invaded the lungs.

The tuberculin test may be given in one of two ways. A small amount of tuberculin may be injected into the outer layers of the skin. This is called the Mantoux Test. Or a small patch containing tuberculin may be taped on the skin. This is known as Vollmer's patch test.

When either test is given, the doctor examines the treated area of the skin two or three days later. If the skin appears normal, there is no reaction and the tuberculin is "negative." If the skin is raised and red, the reaction is "positive."

If a person is negative to the germs in the body and therefore no disease. If there is a positive tuberculin reaction the germs are known to be present in the body, but the person may or may not have disease. To determine the presence or absence of disease requires an X-ray examination of the chest. If disease is present, the person with whom the individual has been in close contact should also have chest X-rays. Persons with a positive tuberculin have usually picked up the germs from others with active tuberculosis. Therefore, chest X-rays of those in contact with persons with a positive tuberculin often reveal untest, it is assumed there are no TB suspected tuberculosis. Tuberculosis is a communicable disease, frequently without symptoms at the onset. Thus, a person may be losing his health and spreading the disease to others without knowing it unless the disease is discovered early by X-ray of the chest.

School children need not have tuberculin tests each year. It is, however, recommended that they have the test when they first enter school and that they be either tuberculin tested or have chest X-rays when they reach the age of adolescence.

In the next article, asthma will be discussed.

JACK - ASS SERENADE

"In all of the years of my desert sojourn,"
Said old Tom when I met him in town,
"We've gone it alone, just the donks and myself
But that visit back East got me down.
My sister convinced me of a good radio,
And I managed to take one along
Sure, it's been company, and right up to date,
But I feel that I've done a bit wrong.

"Always before with me out alone
With nothing to do except fire . . .
I hear every move the donks ever make
And consider their every desire;
I check on the clink of each hobble and chain,
And get a real kick from the way they persuade;
And the thing I have loved through these long many years
. . . Each morning, it's a grand serenade.

"But the radio stole me away from the donks,
Or at least it has come in between.
I'm sick of the thing . . . and guilty it seems.
They're so real, so good, so clean.
That morning song just don't go wrong,
It's a heart and soul overture . . .
You feel way down in your inmost parts
That somehow they mean it . . . for sure . .

Kenneys Take Close Game

In a tightly played contest with the scoring confined to three innings the Kenney Druggists won from the Smoke Tree Broiler last Tuesday night by a score of 7 runs to 5. This gave the Kenneymen an edge of three to one in the series.

Both teams failed to tally in the first two frames. In the third the Broiler hitters pushed across 3 runs on a homer by Summers, hits by Sharp and McDowell and a wild heave by Bagley. The Drugmen went ahead in their half of the inning by tallying four times. Stone homered with Bagley ahead of him.

After some more zeros Kenneys added three more in the last of the fifth, one of them a home run by Dunavant. The scoring ended when the Broiler scored twice in the sixth with hits by Joyce and Summers and a walk to Fogler.

Both teams played fine ball. Nicoll had an edge in the pitching as he allowed 9 hits, struck out 4 and walked 3. Ryan was touched for 11 hits, fanned 2 and walked 1.

Broiler Stays in Series with 2nd Win

With both sides over-anxious in the fifth and what could have been deciding game of the League series the Broiler nine walloped the Kenney Drugmen 13 to 8 last Thursday night at Gilpin Field. The famed Kenney strategy went haywire and the Broiler hitters looped many of Tom Nicoll's slants into Texas league hits. Fielders on both teams showed traces of stage fright as the Broilers erred five times and the Druggists came up with six bobbles.

McDowell, Broiler first baseman hurt his knee in a close play at third early in the game but continued to play.

Ryan pitched a good game in allowing only 6 hits, walking 4 and fanning 6. Tom Nicoll gave up 14 hits, walked 3 and struck out 6. Joyce and Fogler hit for the circuit.

The standing is now Kenneys 3 games won and the Broiler 2 games. The sixth contest will be played Tuesday of this week.

Cubs Lead League Batters

Bob Garry and George Van Tassel of the Joshua Cubs softball team had the highest batting averages of all hitters in the 29 Palms softball league for the 1948 season, according to official figures released last week. Garry, who managed the Cubs and played the full season, had an average of .528 with 28 hits in 53 times at bat. Van Tassel was second with .524. He hit 11 times in 21 times at bat. Layton Haese of the Kenney Drug team was third with 32 hits in 64 appearances at the plate for an even .500 average.

L. A. Man Heads Fight Against Featherbedding

Los Angeles — E. C. Hummel, well-known Southern California industrial and civic leader and President of the Utility Steel Foundry of Los Angeles, last week accepted chairmanship of the Southern California Committee Against Featherbedding, which is leading the campaign in favor of Proposition 3 on the November ballot.

Hummel is past president of the Metal Trades Manufacturers Association of Southern California, a past director and regional vice-president of the National Association of Manufacturers, and at present is chairman of the Statewide Industrial Committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce.

In a statement accepting the chairmanship, Hummel said, "Proposition 3 proposes to amend the Railroad Excess Crew Law of 1911 to strike out its featherbedding provisions. This ancient law requires one to seven surplus brakemen on freight trains in addition to the two-man working crew, although not one of the other 47 states requires more than three brakemen in all. Proposition 3 empowers the California Public Utilities Commission to regulate the number of brakemen on freight trains on the basis of safety and efficiency.

"The issue of Proposition 3 is featherbedding. It concerns every man, woman and child because 20 per cent of the cost of living today is a tribute to wasteful featherbedding practices. This 20 cents out of every dollar shows up in the cost of buying or furnishing a home, in the price of food and clothes, and in the ultimate cost of everything the public buys."

Hummel added, "The voters of California, by overwhelmingly supporting Proposition 3, have the opportunity to issue a mandate to the State Legislature to clean up featherbedding practices in other industries and so reduce the cost of living, which has reached all time national pinnacles.

Polio Precautions

By M. E. COSAND, M.D., Health Officer

Avoid New and Unnecessary Contacts

Do not mingle with crowds. This applies especially to young adults and children of all ages. Each additional contact increases your chance of contracting an infection.

Practice Cleanliness

Wash hands before eating, before handling food and always after going to the toilet. Dirty hands or other unclean or exchanged articles and food must be kept away from the mouth.

Flies and Insects should be kept away from the person, and from food. Keep garbage in flyproof containers or bury it.

Exercise and Exertion

Do not become tired. Avoid strenous exertion. Avoid chilling. Sleep regularly and adequately.

Swimming

Do not swim in pools not having Health Department approval.

Your Doctor Can Tell You!

If your child has symptoms of a cold, or upset stomach, headache, muscle soreness or stiffness, your doctor can advise you if polio might be the cause. If you or your child have these symptoms and you are in doubt keep the patient at rest until your doctor has been consulted.

THE MAN AT THE KEYHOLE

By Operative WB

In the past teachers have had to be almost as circumspect as ministers. But in San Francisco, all signs point to one of the biggest changes in policy since the days of the little red school house. It has been recommended that teachers be allowed to smoke during school hours. The question is a hot one for the teaching profession and many observers are asking if the Bay City decision will herald a change throughout the State.

Able Herb Hanley, San Francisco's GOP chieftan, jubilantly predicts that for the first time in recent political history, six of the city's eight Assemblymen will be Republicans, come November!

Church Corner

by Edythe Fraetis

Thirty-three were present for the interesting Rally Day program presented by the Sunday School under the supervision of Mrs. H. K. Lee, superintendent. A brief class session preceded the program. Dr. D. C. Williams, pastor, urged the children to invite others with the purpose of having every day school student become a member of the Sunday School.

Dr. Williams at the morning worship read a portion of the Fourth Chapter of St. John and delivered a forceful sermon on the "Water of Life."

An analogy was drawn of the aridity of Palestine of Bible times and Southern California of today.

Today, he said, one sees an anguish of thirst in the faces all about. A thirst for peace, contentment and satisfaction. The remedy is not the waters of earth, but God's "Water of Life" that flows ever onward.

The Wright Brothers and Mr. Ellers of Desert Hot Springs displayed the drawing of the new Joshua Tree Chapel soon to be started.

The Turkey Industry is Big Business Today

HEALTH WEALTH HAPPINESS

The complete life.

1 . . . Joshua Tree offers you one of the healthiest climates on the face of the earth. NO FOG, NO SMOG. Year-round climate tempered with invigorating mountain breezes.

2 . . . Raise turkeys as others are doing here and a small investment NOW can build wealth in a few short years.

3 . . . Happiness will be yours earned by your labor and your money.

MEAT PRICES, beef, pork and lamb have reached the highest prices in history. Consequently the consumer measures the value of turkey meat and this year Joshua Tree's Rancho Sun Valley growers expect to reap sensational profits.

Year after year the demand for turkeys as a rich and substantial meat product grows and will continue to do so for years to come.

Growers here at Joshua Tree are under obligation to the great Albers Milling Company for their wonderful cooperation which is doing so much to build this industry here in this favored desert area. A beautiful illustrated 32-page booklet, "The Albers Plan — Turkey Section" published by Albers is invaluable information for all newcomers. In the booklet they state "The practical and profitable commercial production of turkeys depends to a very great extent upon the following:

1 . . . Disease prevention and control,
2 . . . Proper feeding,
3 . . . Good breeding practices,
4 . . . Proper management practices,
5 . . . Proper marketing of the finished product."

Here at Joshua Tree's Rancho Sun Valley every bit of aid is offered newcomers who have already demonstrated that they can start a profitable turkey ranch of their own, and enjoy life on the great American desert At least it is possible for one to have a home and enjoy this marvelous climate, a combination of desert and mountain air, while establishing a profitable income with your own production of turkeys.

HOME INDEPENDENCE INCOME

All this is open to you here at Joshua Tree's Rancho Sun Valley and you are invited to investigate right now while prices of land are low.
The vast growth of the Southland is crowding people farther away from the coast cities and this opportunity is being recognized by shrewd investors.

PROFITS OF FIFTY PER CENT PER ANNUM CAN BE EARNED From Your Own Turkey Ranch

That is a conservative estimate. Some growers prophesy a far greater return this very year.
If the turkey business is new to you go at once to our nearest office at Joshua Tree, Long Beach or Los Angeles and get full information without obligation.
